Chiba University is creating a world class campus!
Aim to become a global leader at Chiba University!

Chiba University will enhance intellectual development. This includes the ability to form an overview to discover new perspectives and to find practical solutions to problems that arise. These are essential elements for a global leader. Chiba University will conduct 4 educational reforms and develop to become a university focusing on the education of global leaders for the future.

President of Chiba University

Takeshi Tokuhisa

4 REFORMS leading to the transformation of Chiba University

REFORM 1 Transformation through GOVERNANCE reform

- Establish a COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS AND SCIENCES <reform the present liberal arts education and promote a global liberal arts education having at its center International Japanology>
- Establish a basis for inter-professional education <project-type education, problem-solving as a team + co-education of overseas students and Japanese students using English>
- Build an organization supporting the operation of all faculties <by introducing a new position called SULA(Super University Learning Administrators) who will act in the role of both teacher and staff and administer a support mechanism tailored to each individual student>
- Enhance the natural ability of the teaching staff <actively promote FD • SD training overseas to develop staff with an international outlook>

REFORM 2 Transformation through PROGRAM reform

- Nurture innovative talent through a double major system <TOKUHISA SCHOOL>
- Establish an early entrance program called “International Program” to study overseas <implement at COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS AND SCIENCES>
- Make International Japanology a requisite <6 units required>
- Introduce semester study abroad program for Japanese and international students
- Introduce Graduate school double major and major/minor program

REFORM 3 Transformation through LEARNING SYSTEM reform

- Expansion of early university entrance <accept early university entrants at many more faculties>
- Variety of entrance examinations <corresponding to International Baccalaureate entrance examination>
- New academic calendar <introduction of 6-term system - to make it easier to participate in summer school (etc.)>
- International standardization of the university education system <course numbering system - faculty, level of difficulty and the order in which to study can be easily understood + preparation of syllabus in English - easy to understand for overseas students + introduction of digital portfolio - to aid each individual student's learning >

REFORM 4 Transformation through GLOBAL NETWORK reform

- Establish an overseas campus <in Bangkok>
- Promotion of alliance exchange <working closely with various alliances (associations) around the world such as Asian University Network(AUN) and the Russell group in UK>

FORMING
an overview

DISCOVERING
new perspectives

FINDING
practical solutions

At Chiba University, we will develop the above to maximize intellectual development. The ability to form an overview will be developed through the completely new liberal arts education, centered around International Japanology. The ability to discover will be realized by innovative education involving active learning. We also aim to develop “professional talent” with the practical skills to tackle issues arising in the discovery process.

753+1 PLAN
Shichi Go San plus Ichi

We will carry out classes 700 in English for a total of 700 subjects at the COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS AND SCIENCES. In order to do that we will increase the ratio of foreign teaching staff and expand the joint learning program with overseas students. Syllabuses will also be prepared in Japanese and English.

We plan to send 50% 1,200 students overseas, which is the equivalent of 50% of new students. Therefore, we will establish an overseas campus, improve short-term programs and work closely with overseas graduates to increase numbers of students studying abroad.

We will accept 3000 overseas students. We will improve programs from Japanese cultural experience-based programs to various specialized short-term intensive programs and in addition, run a summer program concurrently.

Chiba University is known for “early university entrance” and we will further introduce early university entrance especially for overseas study. In addition, we will introduce the International Baccalaureate entrance examinations and overseas entrance examinations and select 10% (240 students) of new entrants through these examinations.

Chiba University continues to evolve.
We aim to become a world-renowned university.
